LET'S TALK ABOUT MOVIES

By VELDA SEAMANS

*****
We have a real swell program starting tomorrow headed by "Duel at Diablo", starring James Garner, and that great academy award winning actor Sidney Poitier. It's a honey of an action picture in color. Then on the same program is a big Uncle film with Robt. Vaughn and Dave MacCallum in "One Spy Too Many", so if you like action and excitement we'll look for you at the Saenger Thursday, Friday or Saturday.
*****

Sunday we have the show you've been waiting for "Texas Across the River" — the most fun filled Western since "Cat Ballou", and stars Dean Martin, Alain Delon, Joey Bishop and others. You can see this on the late show Saturday — so make up a party and come have fun.
*****

Then next Tuesday, Wednesday we bring you a Tennessee Williams story — for adults only, and see!

Blood Bank Improved

MAURICE LEVITE
Hope Kiwanis Club was told Tuesday at its luncheon meeting that the Red Cross Blood Bank in Hempstead County was in a stable and healthy condition for the first time in years. Maurice Levite of Little Rock, representing the Arkansas Red Cross Blood Center, cited figures to prove his point. For the period ending June 30, 1966, Hempstead county donors gave only 232 units of blood. For the same period, Hempstead county used 579 units of blood. Latest figures show that from July 1, 1966 to date Hempstead donors have given 468 units of blood, while using only 242 units. "These latest figures are most gratifying to the blood center, and Hempstead county should now be proud of its record," Mr. Levite declared.

Leftists Have Slate Against DeGaullists

By STEPHENS BROENING
PARIS (AP) — France's usually quarrelsome leftists completed a single slate Tuesday night in a concerted effort to wrest control of the National Assembly from President Charles de Gaulle's party in Sunday's runoff election. The Communists were reported to have withdrawn at least 15 candidates who received more votes in their districts than other leftist candidates in the first round of voting last Sunday. The Red candidates stepped down in the belief that more moderate leftists would have a bigger appeal. The Gaullists, who received just over 37 per cent of the vote in the first round, expressed confidence they would retain a majority in the 487-seat Assembly and that voters would support De Gaulle's leadership. Only 81 candidates — 66 of them Gaullists — polled a first-round majority, leaving 406 seats to be decided. Candidates in the runoff need only a plurality instead of a majority to be elected. Most of the races will pit Gaullists against the left. The left-wing alliance, made up chiefly of the Socialists and the Communists, got about 40 per cent of the votes in the first round, 3 per cent more than the Gaullists. But there was no assurance that the leftists could retain and unify this vote in the second round. Results of last Sunday's first round showed a weakening of the Center Democratic party, which attracted about 12 per cent of the popular vote. It is expected to run about 40 candidates Sunday. Any candidate in the first round who received at least 10 per cent of the registered vote in his district is eligible to compete in the runoff, but leaders of the Communist and non-Communist left agreed Dec. 20 to unify their strength in the final battle and back one leftist candidate in each district.

Consular Treaty Okay Seems Likely

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate ratification by next week of a U.S.-Soviet consular treaty — one of President Johnson's East-West "bridges" — appeared likely today. Chairman J. W. Fulbright of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee got debate on the controversial measure started Tuesday, declaring the proposed agreement offers "mutual accommodation" in relations with the Soviets rather than possible "mutual annihilation."

Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., in the forefront of a small band fighting ratification, scheduled an appearance at a closed meeting of all GOP senators to try to rally disintegrating opposition forces. Mundt said there are enough senators not yet committed to make the two-thirds vote necessary for ratification "reasonably close."

But Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., predicted in a separate interview that fewer than 20 of the Senate's 100 members would vote against the pact. The treaty, signed in 1964, sets guidelines for establishing additional consulates by each country on the other's soil. It grants diplomatic immunity to staffs as well as officials. Each country would be required to give notification of the arrest of any of the other's nationals and provide access to any who were jailed. Johnson has urged its ratification as part of his program of achieving "a reconciliation with the East."

Mundt and other opponents contend the agreement would permit an expansion of Soviet espionage in the United States. They oppose any agreement so long as the Soviets continue to supply North Vietnam with arms. But Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, who resolved his previous doubts and now favors the treaty, said these and other objections "just don't stand up."

Dirksen and Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield agreed that what they now regard as almost certain Senate approval won't come until next week. "A good many members want to be heard on this matter," Dirksen observed. Fulbright told his colleagues the treaty represents "a modest, cautious step" in the direction of reconciliation with "the other immensely powerful state in the world today, a state with whom our relations are most sensitive and difficult, a state with whom our relations are of transcendental importance."

Fulbright, who has often criticized Johnson's Vietnam war policies, rejected opponents' arguments against acting while the Soviet Union continues to support North Vietnam. "If I were the leader of North Vietnam I would be concerned at any sign of a rapprochement between an ally on whom I depended heavily and my opponent, especially if my ally and my opponent were the two most powerful countries in the world," he said. "And if I were an ally of the United States it would worry me to see the United States spurn an opportunity to reduce the tensions which might, if they are not reduced, lead to a conflict in which I might become involved simply because I was an ally of one of the protagonists."

At the same time, the department says it is empowered by the federal law to supervise a new election, under court order, once the earlier election has been found invalid. "Without supervised elections, those who have been illegally chosen might perpetuate themselves in office through their control of the election machinery, using techniques which are not demonstrably unlawful but which nonetheless favor incumbents," the department has told the court through the solicitor general's office. "If no supervised election is conducted to break this cycle of control, a single invalid election may taint several which follow it."

Seeks More Control Over Union Vote

By BARRY SCHWEID
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Labor Department is asking the Supreme Court to strengthen the department's hand in policing union elections. It wants a broader interpretation of the 1959 Landrum-Griffin law than the "grudging approach" taken by lower courts. Under the law the secretary of labor can step in after a union member has exhausted machinery within the union for challenging election procedures. The Labor Department does not quarrel with that interpretation. But it maintains that once the secretary steps in, he has the power to go beyond "the four corners of the complaint" and, if he finds any violation, to ask the court to set aside not only the election the union member challenged but also subsequent ones.

At the moment the department has 28 such cases pending in federal courts. If the reasoning of the lower courts is not reversed by the Supreme Court, the department contends, these lawsuits face wholesale dismissal. Under the Landrum-Griffin

King Jones is important in Arkansas," Nowotny said in reference to Sen. Guy Jones of Conway, author of the measure. Meanwhile the Senate refused to override Rockefeller's vetoes of bills to provide an additional $17.50 state income tax exemption for persons 65 years of age or older and prohibiting the transfer or demolition of state employees covered by the Merit System. The income tax bill failed 7-21 and the Merit System measure 15-17. The Senate approved a resolution calling for the legislature to recess from noon Friday until noon March 27. The 60-day session was scheduled to end Thursday.

The Senate also voted to expunge the record by which it failed to pass bills that would appropriate funds for the governor's proposed Department of Administration and provide for an investigation of the state's dairy industry. The House failed on a 46-38 vote to pass a bill requiring compulsory motor vehicle inspections, a bill that was part of Rockefeller's highway safety program to put the state in compliance with federal regulations.

The House also defeated a bill to require the issuance of laminated drivers licenses with color or photographs of the licensee, passed a bill appropriating $207,900 in each year of the next biennium for operation of a proposed Arkansas Dairy Commission and failed to pass an amended bill appropriating "public relations" expense money of $3,000 a year to the House Speaker, all constitutional officers except the governor and $2,400 annually to other legislators.

In other action Tuesday the Senate: — Approved all the county salary bills. — Approved a bill appropriating $200,000 with which to establish a reserve for the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission's bond guaranty fund. — Approved a bill exempting employers with five or fewer employees from provisions of the state income tax withholding system, as well as employees paying 30 cents a week or less into the system. — Failed to pass a bill authorizing coroners to order inquests at county expense. — Approved a bill authorizing cities to issue revenue bonds to finance construction of off-street parking facilities. — Adopted a resolution asking the financial and business leaders of the state to band together with the governor and arrange for the development and promotion of a theme park in Hot Springs.

law unions are required to hold elections at least once every three years. The secretary of labor normally cannot go to court seeking a supervised election until six months after the earlier election is challenged. Once he does, a trial usually is held. Thus, the litigation is apt to be still going on after the next regular election is held. In one of the three cases the department is appealing, the U.S. Circuit Court in Philadelphia has suggested the secretary should obtain a temporary injunction in the meantime. The same course was suggested by the U.S. Circuit Court in New York City.

Committee Squares Off Over Draft

By JACK MILLER
WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the House Armed Services Committee squared off today against a central recommendation from the President's commission on the draft that college deferments be ended. "My personal feeling is that we've got to have student deferments," said Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., whose committee will consider the draft law which expires June 30. President Johnson is to send his draft recommendations to Congress today after having considered the report made public Saturday by his 20-member commission. "I don't subscribe to the idea that everyone going to college is a rich man's son or that they're all trying to get out of their obligation," Rivers said. The commission recommended a limited lottery; the committee's panel rejected this. And in an interview, Rivers made it clear he doesn't think much of the lottery idea. The President's group urged a complete overhaul of Selective Service administration, but the committee panel found nothing wrong with it. Both groups agreed youngest men should be called first. Senate Armed Services Chairman Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., reserved specific comment on the presidential commission report. But he has long advocated that all young American men undergo six months of military training. And he has expressed interest in suggestions that the young each give two years of national service — civilian or military. Both study groups rejected universal military training and alternate service. Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, who has been urging for about a year that drastic changes be made in the draft, expressed doubts on aspects of the commission findings on student deferments. Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., said young men tapped for the draft should be given some choice of when they serve. Sen. Mike Mansfield, the Democratic leader, said he has a "general feeling" that service should be made universal with men found unfit for combat assigned to other duties in the nation.

Hayes McClerkin of Texarkana, chairman of the House Efficiency Committee, revealed that he had asked former State Rep. Paul Van Dalsem of Perryville to stay off the floor of the House last Saturday. McClerkin said he made the request to save Van Dalsem embarrassment after some legislators complained that he was "extremely active for the gambling bill."

Rockefeller told newsmen Tuesday that Van Dalsem voted Tuesday for Vada Sheld of Mountain Home "aye" during a roll call vote Thursday on the suspension of the rules for a second reading of the bill. Mrs. Sheld said she didn't know who did it and Van Dalsem denied that he did.

Wedding Vows Are Repeated

MR. AND MRS. PAUL J. HERNANDEZ, JR.

Miss Betty Sue Whitten and Paul J. Hernandez, Jr. were united in marriage at 4 p.m. Saturday, February 4 at The Cathedral of the Sacred Heart in Dallas with Father Felix performing the double-ring ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. R. Whitten of Hope, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Hernandez, Sr. of Dallas.

In a setting of white gladioli and stocks with traditional wedding music, the bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a floor-length wedding gown of white satin fashioned with a lace bodice and long sleeves of lace. The back panel of the skirt swept into a chapel train. Her veil of illusion fell from a pearl tiara. The bride's bouquet was centered with a white orchid.

Attired in blue, Mrs. Trini Munoz of Dallas, sister of the groom served the bride as matron of honor. Another sister, Miss Julie Hernandez of Dallas, was bridesmaid and wore a dress of champagne silk. Each carried white carnations.

Trini Munoz of Dallas was the best man for his brother-in-law. The mother of the bride, Mrs.

Whitten, wore a brown suit with bone accessories, and Mrs. Hernandez, mother of the groom, chose a blue print with black accessories. Each had a white carnation corsage.

A reception followed the wedding, held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Walthall of Garland, Texas. Mrs. Walthall was assisted at the serving table by Mrs. John Whitten of Fayetteville. Others attending from out-of-town were Mary Jane, William, and Jimmy Whitten of Hope and John Whitten of Fayetteville. The bride is a graduate of Hope High School, and the groom is a graduate of The Jesuit High School of Dallas. He served two years in the U. S. Army.

Both are now employed by Texas Instruments in Dallas and will make their home in that city at 2207 Proctor, Apt. 222.

Streetcar's Start

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Hal Holbrook's one-man show is a theatrical masterpiece, tooled and refined to satin smoothness. For most of 90 minutes Monday night CBS transformed our television sets—almost—to front row theater seats and we watched and listened to a dramatic stimulation of a lecture by the celebrated author Mark Twain.

Holbrook looked exactly like pictures of the writer, so sophisticated was his makeup—the bushy mop of white hair, characteristic white suit, dropping mustache slightly yellowed by nicotine from the ever-present cigar, even folds of skin on neck and jowl and veined and knobby old man's hands.

He had the voice of an old man, hoarse, strained and occasionally so low he could scarcely be understood. This was right, and so was the slight tremor of the head since the subject was supposed to be 70 years old.

The words, skillfully chosen from Twain's works also were right. There were liberal amounts of humor, a longish dramatic reading from Huck Finn, rueful reflections on the combative nature of man, thoughts of immortality and even a ghost story.

"Mark Twain Tonight" was one of those treats all too rare in network television.

Curiously however, television's use of this performance developed for the theater was not completely satisfying. For one thing, it was taped before an audience whose laughter at times was as obtrusive as the canned guffaws inserted in routine comedies.

And because of the frequency that closeups were used, the living room viewer had a tendency to marvel over the actor's technical skills and the miracle of his makeup when he should have been relishing the wit and wisdom of a worldly old man whose biting opinions on subjects ranging from patriotism to congressmen were as contemporary as today's newspaper.

Chuck Connors, the former professional baseball player who has done better in television, will be returning to the small screens next season for his fourth series, "Cowboy in Africa." ABC will run the hour

Coming, Going

Mrs. E. E. Dattner, who makes her home with her daughter, Mrs. Fred McElroy and family, entered St. Michael's Hospital in Texarkana Sunday.

Mrs. Don Usry returned home Sunday from Honolulu, H. I., after spending a week with her husband, a captain in the U. S. Air Force stationed in Vietnam.

Mrs. Jett Williams, Jr. and son, Houston, were the weekend guests of Mrs. I. F. Russell.

Miss Suzanne Sommerville, Galveston, spent the weekend here with Mrs. Frances Sue Sommer—the ville.

Mrs. Holland Brown, Pine Bluff, has returned home after a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Formby. Mrs. Formby is a patient in a local hospital.

show at the top of its Monday night schedule.

The series, produced by Ivan Tors of "Daktari" note, will have Chuck playing an American cattleman with an American Indian assistant raising herds far from the lone prairies.

Interest in "The Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour" on CBS pushed NBC's "Bonanza" completely out of the national Nielsen list of the top 10 programs for the first time in years. The research company's report, issued Monday, had the Cartwrights riding in 15th place. CBS' Red Skelton Show took top honors.

The programs in the top 10 for the two weeks ending Feb. 19 were CBS' "Wizard of Oz" and "Andy Griffith Show," NBC's "Ice Capades," CBS' "Alaska" and "Daktari," NBC's Bob Hope Comedy Hour and a three-way tie for 10th place—"The Jackie Gleason Show," "The Ed Sullivan Show" and "Green Acres," all on CBS.

The Smothers Brothers, surprise hits of the waning season, were in 23rd place.

FITTING PRESENT

Dear Helen: I have been going with this man for seven and three-quarters years. He has mentioned marriage, but he wants to be "financially able" first. So he saves. He says movies are an extravagance when we can watch shows that are just as good on television. He prefers home cooking to a free museum.

He has a good paying job, and he must be storing the money away, so he probably will make a pretty secure life for a wife, but I begin to think that all these economic are becoming a habit, and when we marry, we'll just sit home and watch the bank account grow.

However, I've squandered good reason. Try a marriage seven and three-quarters years counselor before you contact a lawyer. — H.

What really started me thinking was my birthday present. He gave me a replacement tube for my TV, which he checked out at the tube rack down at the store. His birthday is coming up. What should I give him? — WAITING ROSE

Dear Rose: How about a tight T-shirt to match his nature?

... And maybe the gate? Marriage-wise, I don't think you've got a live one. — H.

Dear Helen: I must answer "Inez" who smugly knocks working mothers. She sounds like the type who runs up charge accounts for something to wear at PTA scouting, church and community endeavors, and then has Papa take a job evenings to pay the bills.

Working mothers think enough of their husbands' health so they take some of the load off them. And they don't sit back and act superior, all the time screaming how tired they are from housework and all the work of taking care of their neighbors' children (whose mothers "have a ball holding down a job)."

Some of us get jobs evenings. We manage our homes and our children just fine, and our husbands don't begrudge our time away, for we make it up — and more — when we're with them. On Saturdays and Sundays we work together, making a home.

We aren't working because we "just can't stand to be home" — we are helping in a joint enterprise. And I wish these pure and holy little housewife-types would leave us alone! — BARBARA

Dear Helen: Without telling me about it, my husband had an operation so he couldn't have any more children. I have been trying desperately to have another baby. Our doctor finally put me wise, after I went to him to find out why I was having no luck. He thought I knew. Is this grounds for divorce? — HOODWINKED

Dear H: A lawyer might make a good case out of it, if you could offer other valid charges of mental cruelty. However, sterility in itself is not grounds for divorce. Possibly your husband has a good reason. Try a marriage counselor before you contact a lawyer. — H.

Leachville, Harrison Win Games

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Russellville and Valley Springs seek a berth in the semifinals of the Class AA senior boys state basketball tournament to night when the two teams collide at 8 in Barton Coliseum.

Two first-round games are slated earlier today, with West Memphis meeting Sloom Springs at 12:30 p.m. and Camden Fairview opposing Pine Bluff Southeast at 3:30 p.m.

Leachville, the Associated Press poll champion, and Harrison, No. 2 in the final poll, won in first round action Tuesday along with Benton.

Leachville beat Van Buren 39-16, Harrison toppled Helena 82-65 and Benton downed Smackover 71-55 behind Chester Wilson's 37-point record performance.

Leachville and Van Buren battled to the lowest combined score in a single game and Van Buren's 16 points was a record low for a single team.

Tommy Robins and John Linck scored 13 points each for Leachville.

Kip Wolfe's 29 points paved the way as Harrison pulled away in the third period and clipped Helena. Donnie Watts added 21 points for Harrison and Charlie Hanks had a 19 for Helena.

Wilson's 37 points, a single game record, told the story as Benton rolled past Smackover. Reynie Rutledge led Smackover with 22 points.

Tarkenton Goes to N. Y. Giants

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Giants have come up with their answer to the rival Jets' Joe Namath — scrambling, colorful Fran Tarkenton, late of the Minnesota Vikings.

"We had to have a personality," a spokesman for the 42-year-old National Football League club, said today. "It's important that we start winning again. It's more important that we win back the fans who have been going to the other league."

"In Tarkenton, we have that man."
The Giants acquired the 26-year-old former University of Georgia passing and running star from the Vikings Tuesday but had to pay dearly. In the deal, they gave up their top two draft choices for 1967, their first pick for 1968 and a player to be mutually agreed upon at a later date.

Allie Sherman, the Giants' coach, said it was worth it. "This is the first and best step we could take in our bid to comeback," said Sherman, whose team won only one game in 1966 and finished in the Eastern Division cellar. "Tarkenton is a fine quarterback whose ability, leadership and experience will be a great asset to our young team."

Tarkenton, a mild-mannered, pleasant young man, may not match Namath's lineage in the gossip columns, but he should give the exciting ex-Alabama a run for the hurrahs on the playing field.

A six-year NFL veteran, Tarkenton has gained acclaim as a scrambling quarterback. Unlike most of the protected passers, who operate from a pocket, he is apt to break away at any moment and pick his way through tacklers like a nimble-footed halfback.

At Minnesota, he averaged 53.9 per cent on his completions, throwing for 113 touchdowns, and he was always dangerous on the ground. He rolled up 1,803 yards rushing, averaged 6.5 yards a carry and scored 15 TDs.

Sherman insisted that he had no plans of changing Tarkenton's method of operation.

The new Giant signal-caller, who plans to continue to make his home in Atlanta, said he was happy to be in New York but denied reports that his break with the Vikings — he asked last month to be traded — was due to a personality clash with the former Viking coach, Norman Van Brocklin.

"Van Brocklin is a tremendous coach," he said. "I am indebted to him."

Drysdale Is Complaining of Sore Arm

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Don Drysdale left the problem-plagued Los Angeles Dodgers wondering today how far he and Sandy Koufax can carry the idea of togetherness.

The two pitched the Dodgers to pennants and World Series victories together, held out together, and now Drysdale is talking about following Koufax into retirement.

"I'm pitching on a year to year basis," said the 30-year-old right-hander, who has been bothered by a sore arm this spring. "This could be my last year, or I might pitch five more. 'I've reached the point where I have to think of my family and security. At the end of 1967, I'll weigh a number of factors, including the year I've had, the year the team has had and whatever offers outside of baseball come my way.'"

Drysdale, who was acting with Koufax at this time last year during their celebrated salary holdout that cost Drysdale most of spring training and subsequently led to a 13-16 record, signed for about $100,000 this year and reported to camp in the best shape in several years. But the sore arm apparently is bothering him.

"I'm sure it's nothing serious," said the 1962 Cy Young Award winner, "but my arm has never stayed sore this long."

With Los Angeles' 1967 pennant hopes all but dashed by Koufax' dramatic retirement in December because of his arthritic elbow, similar action by Drysdale would make the situation even worse next year.

Meanwhile, San Francisco also received more bad news from Juan Marichal, another of baseball's top pitchers.

The Giants found another unsigned contract in their mail from the Dominican right-hander, who is holding out for a reported $125,000 after a 25-6 season in 1966 when he got $75,000. Marichal said a week ago he was returning the Giants' $90,000 offer.

"For awhile," Giant Vice President Chub Feeney said, "I thought he put it in a bottle and tossed it out to sea."

Feeney added that he would try to contact Marichal by telephone.

One signature was obtained Monday when Rocky Colavito took pen in hand and ended his hold out with the Cleveland Indians. He will get a reported $55,000, a $10,000 cut over last year. General Manager Cade Paul reportedly had been asking the 33-year-old outfielder to take the maximum 25 per cent cut after hitting 30 home runs with only a .238 batting average.

In training camp news, Washington's John Orsino, bothered by a sore elbow, celebrated an attempted switch from catcher to first baseman by driving in seven runs in a squad game.

Left-hander Dennis Bennett, bothered by arm trouble the past two years, was named by Boston Manager Dick Williams to start the Red Sox exhibition season.

The Kansas City Athletics and Baltimore Orioles joined the Chicago White Sox in a pinch-hitting experiment that allows one designated pinch hitter to be used twice in one game.

Hawkeyes Still Have Bid Chance

The Iowa Hawkeyes are keeping their fingers crossed. They still have a chance of beating out Indiana and Michigan State for the Big Ten berth in the NCAA postseason tournament for the national collegiate basketball championship.

It's only an outside chance since both Indiana and Michigan State will have to lose Saturday, but after their 90-87 overtime victory over Wisconsin Tuesday night the Hawkeyes are hopeful their long shot will come in.

The victory gave Iowa an 8-5 conference record, one game back of Indiana and Michigan State tied for first at 9-4. If Purdue beats Indiana and Northwestern downs Michigan State, Iowa can finish in a triple tie for the conference title Saturday by defeating last-place Michigan.

In that event Iowa would get the NCAA berth since both Indiana and Michigan State have been in the NCAA tournament later than the Hawkeyes.

Sam Williams saved the Hawkeyes from defeat in regulation time with a last minute basket that tied the score at 80-80 at Madison, Wis.

Gerry Jones then took over in the overtime with six points, including two vital free throws that provided the final margin. Jones scored 29 points altogether.

Seattle, already in the NCAA, finished its regular season with a home court 70-60 victory over Idaho. In other home court victories, Canisius edged Niagara 78-74 and St. Louis routed its crosstown rival, Washington University, 88-60.

The four games concluded major college activity before Thursday's opening of the NIT tournament in New York and the Atlantic Coast Conference championship tourney at Greensboro, N.C.

Marshall, 18-6, plays Villanova, 17-8, and Southern Illinois, 20-2, meets St. Peters of New Jersey, 18-5, in the opening NIT doubleheader. In the ACC, South Carolina meets Maryland, Duke battles Virginia, North Carolina opposes North Carolina State and Clemson plays Wake Forest.

Earl Monroe, of the Winston-Salem N.C. State Rams, Sam Smith of Kentucky Wesleyan, Phil Jackson of North Dakota and Mel Cox of Central Washington were picked as Frazier's teammates on the first team. Monroe, Smith, Jackson and Cox are seniors.

Don Carlos of Otterbein, Al Tucker of Oklahoma Baptist, C.A. Core of Southeastern Louisiana, John Dickson of Arkansas State and Elbert Miller of Nevada Southern were named to the second team in the voting by 103 sportswriters and broadcasters.

Wayne Proffitt of Lynchburg, Willie Scott of Alabama State, Rod McDonald of Whitworth, Henry Logan of Western Carolina and Glynn Sauters of Northeast Louisiana rounded out the squad as a third team.

Each member of the three teams will receive a certificate from The Associated Press.

Jack Theeler of South Dakota, Dan Bolden of Southwest Missouri, Al Skelecky of San Diego State, Dan Smith of Howard Payne and Butch Wade of Indiana State were among the leaders on the honorable mention list.

Frazier, a native of Atlanta, was one of the prime reasons Southern Illinois compiled a 20-2 regular season mark. The Salukis from Carbondale, Ill., became known as the giant-killers by beating such major teams as Louisville, Texas Western, Wichita and St. Louis.

Beaten only by Louisville in overtime and by Southern Methodist, the Southwest Conference champs, the Salukis passed up the NCAA small college championship tourney to accept a bid to the NIT. They play St. Peters of New Jersey in the first round of the NIT Thursday night.

Monroe, 6-3 of Philadelphia, averaged 44.3 points per game in leading Winston-Salem to 25 straight victories before the Rams were upset by the North Carolina A&T Aggies last Friday 105-82. Monroe got 20 points in that game before fouling out.

Smith, at 6-7, and Jackson, at 6-8, the tallest players on the first team, were strong scorers and rebounders for Kentucky Wesleyan and North Dakota. Jackson is a repeater from the 1966 first team.

Cox, 6-5, was a whiz for Central Washington in the Pacific Northwest where he became known as Marvelous Mel. He beat out Don Carlos of Otterbein in the voting for the first team.

HARD SMASHES, true, are part of the game of tennis, but that doesn't include cars. Sharleen Hillebrand ignores the showoff behind her during a tennis tournament at Melbourne, Australia. The car, parked atop a 14-foot embankment, rolled down into the wire fence around the courts.

Player Losing Place as One of Big Three

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Gary Player, rapidly losing his status as one of golf's Big Three, is determined to get off to a better start on the pro tour this year than he did in 1966 in a futile fling in America.

The little South African, once feared as the tiny man in black, goes into the Citrus Open Thursday without a tournament victory in the United States since he captured the U.S. Open in 1965.

"That's not surprising, since I don't play in this country very much," Player said after a practice round Tuesday.

The $100,000 Orlando meet, a 72-hole test on the 6,873-yard Rio Pinar course in central Florida, marks Player's 1967 debut in the United States. He has spent nearly a week on the tree-studded layout, tuning up for the challenge.

Last year Player also started his American swing in Orlando, and he didn't even qualify for the final 36 holes after a dismal start.

Player has won more than his share of U.S. titles in past years, but he didn't win a tournament in 1966 although he went to the post 11 times.

Player isn't favored in Orlando, where Lionel Hebert is defending his title and Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus and Doug Sanders are top contenders.

NBA Trying to End Threat of a Strike

CHICAGO (AP) — National Basketball Association club owners have planned a meeting in Chicago Thursday in an attempt to curb a threatened strike by the players.

The players issued the strike decree more than a week ago and plan a sitdown before the start of the playoffs if their demand for increased pensions are not met.

The playoffs, involving eight of the ten teams in the league, are scheduled to begin no later than March 22.

Walter Kennedy, president of the NBA, said the meeting would not be held Thursday unless all 10 club owners were present "but it looks they will be."

Kennedy also said there would be no announcement of developments at the meeting until the individual owners have talked to their clubs and Kennedy meets with Lawrence Fleisher, the players' attorney.

All Over But Shouting for Knicks

NEW YORK (AP) — For the New York Knickerbockers it might be all over but the shouting. For Dave Stallworth it might be the end of a promising career.

That was the situation confronting the National Basketball Association team and its spirited young forward today after Stallworth was hospitalized Tuesday for a heart condition.

"Stallworth suffered a heart attack," said Dr. Kazuo Yanagisawa, the Knicks' team physician.

"He had twinges a couple of weeks ago, but didn't think anything of it. He got hit with the heart attack Saturday night."

"The manner in which he responds to treatment will determine his future in basketball," said General Manager Eddie Donovan.

Coach Dick McGuire said the 25-year-old, second-year pro from Wichita State played four minutes Saturday night against San Francisco at Fresno, Calif., and then, after getting the approval of San Francisco doctors, played 10 minutes against the Warriors Sunday before leaving the game with a bruised thigh.

"It takes a couple of days sometime for it to show up on a cardiogram, and that's why they didn't discover it out there," Dr. Yanagisawa said.

DeBusschere Decides to Just Play

By WHITEY SAWYER
Associated Press Sports Writer
DETROIT (AP) — Big Dave DeBusschere stepped out of his dual role as coach and player of the Detroit Pistons Tuesday and will concentrate on playing in the final seven games for the National Basketball Association team.

DeBusschere, 26, asked to be relieved Tuesday. He will take the floor against Baltimore here tonight, with Donnis Butcher calling the shots from the bench.

The 6-foot-6 basketball star couldn't be reached for comment, but there has been considerable speculation that he could do better either as a coach or a player.

Asked recently whether the double job was hurting him in either capacity, he replied: "I cannot answer that, I don't know."

General Manager Ed Coll named Butcher, assistant coach and chief scout, to take over as coach.

Detroit trails Chicago by a half game for the final playoff berth in the Western Division.

DeBusschere led Detroit Austin High School to a state basketball championship, then sparked the University of Detroit Titans for three years.

He had a fling at two jobs after college, playing both baseball in the Chicago White Sox organization and basketball with the Pistons. But he quit as a baseball pitcher to concentrate on basketball.

He was only 24 when he became coach of the Pistons at the 12th game of the 1964-65 season. His teams have won 79 and lost 143 games. This season the Pistons are 28-45 and have lost five of their last six.

Coll said DeBusschere gave no reason for asking to be relieved as coach.

DeBusschere has averaged more than 18 points a game this season. He leads the Pistons in rebounding, with 843.

Butcher, 29, came out of Pikeville, Ky., College and played for the New York Knicks and Detroit before becoming chief scout for the Pistons last year.

Triple A Going Into Quarterfinal

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Third-ranked Blytheville and Little Horace Mann collide tonight at 9:30 in the first quarterfinal game of the Class AAA senior boys state basketball tournament.

Two first round games today will match Little Rock Central, the defending champion, and El Dorado at 2 p.m. and Little Rock McClellan and Fort Smith Northside at 6:30.

In Tuesday's action, Springdale defeated Pine Bluff 69-55, North Little Rock beat Jacksonville 56-47 and Hot Springs beat Little Rock Hall 44-38.

Donnie Smith and Dana Baker combined for 50 points, Smith getting 26, to lead Southside to its 23rd victory against four defeats. Joe Boeving's 21 points paced the Zebra attack.

Ray Malcolm scored 15 points for North Little Rock and Ron Greer had 14. It was the Wildcats' 22nd triumph in 27 games.

Ricky Bales led Hot Springs, now 16-9, with nine points and Steve McFerron 14 for Hall.

Says Clay to Fight in Ghana

ACCRA, Ghana (AP) — Ghanaian boxing officials said Tuesday that heavyweight champion Cassius Clay will defend his title against an opponent of his own choice in the Accra Sports Stadium in May or late July.

Jerry West Plays Usual Fine Game

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
It was old hat to Jerry West — a 30-plus performance and a broken nose.

The star backcourt man of the Los Angeles Lakers scored 33 points Tuesday night in leading the Lakers past the New York Knickerbockers 131-119, and broke his nose in the process.

Plus 30-point performances are commonplace for West, and broken noses aren't too unusual either. The latter has occurred six times.

In the only other National Basketball Association game, Chicago snapped Boston's winning streak at nine games by downing the Celtics 117-114 in Chicago.

"I'm sure it's broken," said West, who was injured when he collided with New York's Willis Reed in the third quarter.

But West, who returned to action in the fourth period, said he was sure he would be able to play tonight against St. Louis in Los Angeles.

The winner of that game will take over undisputed second place in the Western Division. The second-place club will play either Chicago or Detroit in the first round of the playoff instead of division-winning San Francisco.

Chicago's victory moved the Bulls a half-game ahead of Detroit in the battle for the fourth and last playoff spot.

West got scoring help against the Knicks from Gail Goodrich, 24 points, rookie Archie Clark, 23, and Mel Counts, 20. Reed and Walt Bellamy led New York with 25 and 24, respectively.

Chicago scored 15 straight points in the third quarter to turn a 73-66 deficit into an 81-73 lead, and then held off a late Celtic rally.

Guy Rodgers scored 22 for Chicago and Bob Boozer added 21. Larry Siegfried threw in 24, Bailey Howell 21 and John Haylicek 20 for the Celtics.

Shaw to Ask Charges Be Quashed

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Attorneys for Clay Shaw, the only man arrested so far in Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison's probe of the John F. Kennedy assassination, are going to court in an attempt to quash the charges.

Guy Johnson, an attorney for the former managing director of the International Trade Mart, said motions would be filed today in the court of Criminal Dist. Judge Bernard Bagert, who has scheduled a preliminary hearing in the case for next Tuesday.

"We will file motions for particulars — the nature of the crime, the names of the coconspirators, the name of the unnamed informant," Johnson said.

"And we'll file a motion to suppress the search warrant and a motion to quash."

Garrison alleged in an application for a warrant to search Shaw's home last week that Shaw, Lee Harvey Oswald and David W. Ferrie met and discussed "how they would kill John F. Kennedy."

Shaw said he did not know Oswald, the man identified by the Warren Commission as Kennedy's assassin, or Ferrie, a free-lance pilot who died Feb. 22 while under investigation by Garrison's office.

After 6 Yrs. NE Drought May Be Over

By JEAN HELLER
NEW YORK (AP) — Residents of the northeastern United States have come to expect spring without rain enough for crops, summer without rain enough for recreation, winter without snow enough to melt into parched reservoirs.

Season after season, storms and even floods have swept nearly every other area of the nation. But the people of the Northeast got rain only in sprinkles, snow only in flurries.

They suffered through one of the longest, hardest droughts in the area's history.

But now, after nearly six years, maybe — just maybe — the drought is slowly breaking.

In the past five weeks, snow and rain have poured over the Eastern Seaboard, severe enough that at times it seemed the weather was trying to make up for six years in one short season.

With a few exceptions, reservoir levels are inching up toward near normal. Groundwater levels are rising. Water restrictions that have almost become habit are being lifted.

But one big, overriding question remains: Will the precipitation continue?

"When you talk about a drought, you can never specify exactly at what point it ends," said New York City's chief meteorologist, Anthony Tancredi.

"Generally, drought conditions have eased," he said. "But all that means is that within a short period of time — less than two months — we've had enough rain and snow to take care of us for the time being. "But rain this month isn't going to help farmers next month. And it isn't going to erase the deficits we've built up over the past six years."

"To help the agricultural drought you have to have rain falling during the growing season and you have to build up underground stores. You simply can't make up a six-year deficit in two months."

"But this year, at least, we have some reason for optimism."

The giant Sequoia tree is the world's largest living thing.

Public and Private Debt

Private debt has been rising much more rapidly than public and now accounts for 75 per cent of the nation's total indebtedness. During the past 20 years, it has jumped 550 per cent. In the public category, state and local government indebtedness has shown a greater rate of increase—700 per cent—but is still the smallest in actual money terms. The federal government or national debt has increased less than 30 per cent during the same period.

Not Necessary to Delay
Removal of Cataracts
By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—What causes cataracts? How are they removed? Can they return after operation? How dangerous is the operation?

A—Clouding of the crystalline lens is caused by a breakdown in its structure due to age. The prevalence of cataracts increases with the years after 50. Other causative factors include diabetes and occupations associated with exposure to intense heat or light. Cataracts are removed by making a slit in the lens capsule and applying the tip of a freezing probe to the lens. The lens then sticks to the probe and can readily be drawn out. Since the entire lens is removed, there can be no recurrence, but a cataract may form in the opposite eye. In the hands of a skilled surgeon the operation is not dangerous.

Q—I am 84 and have cataracts. Can they be dissolved or must they be removed surgically?

A—This is a constantly recurring question. Surgeons used to postpone operation on a cataract until it was considered ripe. Now an enzyme may be used to dissolve the attachment of the lens to its surrounding capsule so that it is no longer necessary to delay removal of the cataract, but the latter cannot be dissolved.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The world's largest building was completed in 1966, says The World Almanac. The huge structure, part of the NASA space program and located near Cape Kennedy in Florida, is called the Vehicle Assembly Building (VAB). It has an enclosed area of 129 million cubic feet—almost as large as the combined volume of the Pentagon and the Chicago Merchandise Mart. Its fire-protection system requires a reservoir of one million gallons. Completely air-conditioned it has doors so large that a 40-story building could pass through them.

TOM TIEDE IN VIETNAM

By TOM TIEDE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

AN KHE, Vietnam—(NEA)—Air transport flight 652 pulled away from the Pleiku airfield with a grinding, gravity-busting roar that sent its passengers straining sideways against their seat belts on the long benches.

As the giant aircraft—an Air Force C-130—gained altitude, its wheels were folded amidship and its wing flaps were retracted noisily. The plane leveled off.

It was mid-afternoon. Flying weather was rotten.

The passengers, military personnel and a few civilians, adjusted themselves on the nylon-webbed benches. They sat shoulder to shoulder and knee to knee. Some closed their eyes. Others began to read.

The liftoff, as always with a C-130, was an alarming experience. Gears echoed as if the hull was cracking. Hissing sounds seemed to indicate the gas tank was leaking. Air vapor seeped around like smoke.

The veteran travelers knew it was all routine, that C-130s successfully take off thousands of times daily, that they hardly ever crash.

But fingers crossed anyway.

One never knows, especially in rotten weather.

The ship had been airborne about five minutes when the first bump rocked its silver shell. Turbulence, of course. Nothing to worry about. But the passengers began to glance about.

The immediate complaint, from the straphangers' point of view, was the plane's lack of windows, or rather the position of what windows it had. They were small portholes located three feet above the tallest head. Hence, all passengers were flying virtually blind.

Buffeting began to increase as the plane cut through the heavily clouded sky. Dipping motions caught several stomachs unaware. Burp bags were distributed hastily . . . but, in some cases, tardily.

The passengers, by then, were nervous. The ship was rolling and the wings seemed to wobble. Men on the benches tightened their grips.

Some of the people began to mumble among themselves. Others stared ahead, stonefaced. One passenger, an Army major, chuckled out loud. He elbowed the fellows on his flanks and made light jests.

"God, what a ride," he said.

Somebody nodded dizzily.

"Wonder where we are," he chuckled.

The others looked puzzled.

"You know . . . if we crash."

The airplane continued to snort, entirely alone. Then, suddenly, the airplane swerved sharply downward and picked up airspeed.

A couple of riders gasped. Only the major continued to smile. People began putting loose items underneath their seats. And still the plane pitched down, its turbo engines growling loudly.

Then a static rustle introduced the voice of the pilot over the intercom system. He sounded calm but firmly authoritative. He wasted no words. He asked for attention in the cargo area.

"Fasten seat belts," he said.

Not, "please fasten."

Just, "fasten."

"Oh, oh!" the major laughed.

The plane continued to rock wildly. The portholes were dark with rainclouds. It seemed as if the ship would lean left one moment, right the next. More burp bags were opened.

It lasted 10 full minutes. The passengers became visibly shaken. Heads twisted in all directions looking for indications. The ship creaked and groaned and got lower and lower and lower.

Finally, there was a sharp jolt . . . then another one . . . and several more which blended together into a continuous roll along the An Khe airstrip. The passengers sighed in unison. They were safely landed.

As everybody unstrapped, they did so quietly. Only the Army major was active. He snickered and whistled and made cracks.

"Just routine," he said boldly.

He was the first off the plane, the major. His ashen face was wet with perspiration. And his trembling legs almost failed him as he hurried away into the rain.

JOB THROUGH WANT AD

BOSTON (AP)—Boston's new director of public facilities landed the $25,000-a-year post after answering a "blind" classified ad in a newspaper. The ad called for an engineer with building construction experience. Malcolm E. Dudley, 42, of Marshfield, replied to the Boston box number and got the job. He said he had no idea that the City of Boston had placed the ad.

QUICK QUIZ

Q Where is the oldest operating airport in the world?

A College Park, Md., eight miles from downtown Washington, D.C. Plans are under consideration to convert it into a national aviation memorial center.

At the Annual Convention of Consumer-Investor Planning Corporation held in Hot Springs, Arkansas, Arthur C. Abbott, Area Vice President at Little Rock, Arkansas, received a cash award and the President's Club White Hat for his outstanding sales production during 1966.

Presenting the hat to Mr. Abbott is William J. Erickson, president of Consumers.

Consumer-Investor Planning Corporation is sole distributor of Associated Fund Trust and Consumers Investment Fund, Inc., and a wholly owned subsidiary of Consumers Financial Corporation of Minneapolis, Minnesota.

Abbott is the brother of Emma Wiggins and Walter Abbott of Hope, Arkansas.

Thinks Film on LBJ All Political

By WALTER R. MEARS
WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican Sen. Karl E. Mundt said today the home-front release of U.S. Information Agency documentary films on President Johnson would be political propaganda.

Other senators from both parties joined him in opposing domestic distribution of USIA materials. But Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield said he doesn't believe their release would propagandize Americans so long as the agency carried out its proper objective: "To convey the unvarnished truth."

Mundt, of South Dakota, said the party in control of the White House would use the material for its own political advantage.

He said two motion pictures prepared for overseas distribution "tend to glorify" President Johnson — and properly so.

"He's our man," Mundt said. "But I don't think that should be used as a prelude for a re-election campaign in the United States."

"I'm afraid that if a documentary on a living president was put out domestically, the Republicans would raise the roof," Mansfield said.

USIA films depict Johnson against a Texas backdrop and on his Pacific-Asian tour late last year.

Mansfield and Mundt discussed in interviews a proposal of the U.S. Advisory Commission on Information suggesting that USIA make available to interested Americans — on request — the material it distributes overseas.

By policy but not by statute the Commission said "This practice has been ruled on."

Asia director Leonard Marks said his agency would comply with the advisory commission proposal if Congress decided that domestic release of its material should become legislative policy. The agency's official role is to promote support for U.S. foreign policy overseas.

Senators ranging from Mundt to Democrat J. W. Fulbright of Arkansas assailed the proposal, saying it would open the door to domestic propaganda.

"To turn that sort of thing inward smacks of the propaganda office that Goebbels ran with such disastrous results in Nazi Germany," Mundt said.

Fulbright said he opposes such programs — and accused the Pentagon of promoting propaganda in the United States. He scheduled a showing later today of a Pentagon film entitled "Why Vietnam?" which is being distributed on request to U.S. audiences.

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., said easing the policy on USIA would be a dangerous move. "I don't think we ought to have any official propaganda agency in the United States," he said. "I think it would set a very bad precedent," said Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen. "I don't think Congress will change the policy."

Suggests Wilson Losing Tight Grip

By LOUIS NEVIN
LONDON (AP)—Is Prime Minister Harold Wilson, the "master politician," losing his grip? Or has he made a calculated move to force the Labor party's rebellious left wing into line?

Political quarters are asking these questions in advance of a crucial testing of the Labor government's popularity in special elections Thursday in three widely separated districts.

The polling in Glasgow, South Wales and the industrial English midlands will fill parliamentary seats left vacant by death or resignation. The midlands and South Wales are considered safe Labor seats, but the Laborites are likely to lose in Glasgow.

Overshadowing the electoral question mark are queries raised by the apparent disarray of Wilson's party in Parliament following the almost unprecedented tongue-lashing the prime minister gave his followers last Thursday.

This came after 63 Laborite legislators, by abstaining, refused to support the government's defense policy in a critical vote Tuesday night. The government's theoretical majority of 95 votes in the House of Commons fell to 39 amid jubilant shouts of "resign, resign!" from opposition Conservatives and Liberals.

What stung most in Wilson's tirade Thursday to a party caucus was his likening the abstainers to dogs. "Dog metaphors are usually a mistake in democratic politics," the Times later commented.

Wilson told the abstainers: "All I say is 'Watch it.' Every administration desperately dog is allowed one bite, but a different view is taken of a dog that goes on biting all the time."

He threatened to dissolve Parliament if the backbenchers continue opposing his government's policy.

The Financial Times suggested "the prime minister's weapons is embroiling her with savage rebuke to his rebellious followers on Thursday night was symptomatic of the government's growing sensitivity to criticism."

Of the 63 abstainers, 11 came from the party's right wing and center. The others were left-meant curtailment of the party's cherished social welfare they have nowhere to go if excluded by the Laborites and that he can get along very well without them.

Wednesday, March 8, 1967

Wilson's problem is that his administration desperately needs a foreign or domestic policy success. Peace in Vietnam seems no closer; the rebel Rhodesians are still in power; the Common Market seems just as firmly closed to British entry. Britain's ardent support for a projected American-Soviet treaty to curb the spread of nuclear weapons is embroiling her with the French, Italians and West Germans.

At home, improved exports have been obscured by the continuing rise in unemployment.

The continuing economic crisis and heavy defense spending has meant curtailment of the party's cherished social welfare program.

Winter Grip Still Holds Wide Section

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Winter tightened its icy grip on a large part of New England and the upper Mississippi Valley today and gave no sign spring was less than two weeks away.

Flooding continued in Pennsylvania, Ohio and Kentucky, although some rivers were receding.

There was nine inches of snow on the ground when Gov. Edward T. Breathitt visited Providence, Ky., Tuesday, but the people still wanted to know what the state was going to do about salt marsh mosquitoes, the cause of a long standing complaint in western Kentucky.

In some parts of New England there were 20 inches of snow on the ground from Tuesday's storm. After the storm blew out to sea temperatures plunged into the 20s.

Delays Sale of Manuscripts

LONDON (AP) — Sotheby's auction house, threatened with an injunction suit, has canceled the sale of 23 ancient biblical manuscripts and agreed to return them to the Armenian Cathedral in Jerusalem.

"We changed our minds about the sale as a result of instructions from the vendor," said Peter Wilson, manager of Sotheby's. He said the seller would not allow his name to be disclosed.

Sotheby's had scheduled the sale for March 14 and reportedly expected to get up to $1.4 million.

The Armenian Catholic Church had threatened suit to stop the sale, charging that the lavishly illustrated manuscripts were taken without permission from the St. James Cathedral in Jerusalem.

Sources in Jerusalem said five other volumes were still missing.

Not Many in Asphalt Prairie of Chicago

By CHARLES-GENE MCDANIEL

CHICAGO (AP) — With snow on the ground and thermometer readings in the teens, not many folk hereabouts are thinking about tomato plants.

In fact, not many people in this asphalted prairie ever think about them. For all they know, tomatoes grow in those plastic packages in which they're sold at the store.

But I'm thinking about tomato plants and searching the seed catalogs for just the right ones to go on my back porch. Those luscious-looking Ponderosas and Red Globes don't really tempt me, nor do the cherry and plum tomatoes — which in my Arkansas childhood were called "Tommytoes."

As a matter of fact, I don't really care what kind of fruit is supposed to come off the vine. All I care about is how many blossoms the plant will produce. Yep, Blossoms.

On the basis of my experience last year as an apartment-dwelling gardener I've decided that I'm an expert at growing tomato blossoms. I'm planning to capitalize on it this year.

If my plan succeeds, tomato blossom corsages are going to be all the go next summer among the really "in" set of high fashion. I envision little bunches of yellow blossoms and the dull green foliage of the tomato plant tied with ribbon to go with madam's costume.

This plan was born of last year's failure. What I had in mind then was red, ripe, juicy tomatoes. What I got was little yellow blossoms — lots of them. Remembrances of my agrarian life.

Hoffa No Longer in Charge, Teamsters Resume Negotiations

Junior Play to Be Staged on Friday

The curtain will rise Friday night at eight o'clock on the Hope High School Junior Play.

There is much excitement in the play with a ghost, a messenger from "down below," and the action goes "way out." The play should delight most everyone who believes in heaven and hell.

The plot is different from the average comedy.

Funny characters include Lucifer, Buzz Andrews, from "down below" who is the "rounder-upper" of lost souls, pitch-fork and all; Mildred the maid, Ellen Turner, who is always unhappy over everything; and Mrs. Schmaltz, Candy Harris, a character from "way out" on her way out.

Four members of the Future Farmers of America have been building the props this week. They are Mike Russell, Gary Golden, Gary Rowe, and Jack Dougan.

Mrs. B. B. McPherson, director, says: "Rest Assured you will love this play while hammering home a point while putting you in a hilarious mood."

Snow Falls in Parts of Arkansas

Cold air swept into northwest Arkansas last night with snow falling behind a cold front moving southeastward across the state.

The snowfall last night was generally an inch or less. However, the U. S. Weather Bureau at Little Rock said the inch that fell in the Fayetteville area led to worse road conditions than were caused by the six inches that fell Monday.

The bureau said streets and roads in the Fayetteville vicinity were glazed over and slippery. However, sunshine this afternoon is expected to improve the conditions, the bureau said.

The forecast for tonight is clear and colder with fair skies and continued cold temperatures Thursday. The low temperatures tonight will be in the teens in the north portion of the state to the 20s in the south.

WASHINGTON (AP) — National trucking negotiations for 500,000 workers resume today with imprisoned Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa no longer in the driver's seat.

Teamsters General Vice President Frank Fitzsimmons, Hoffa's handpicked stand-in, takes over contract talks with Trucking Employers Inc., representing the largest of the 12,000 firms involved.

Hoffa will have to learn from behind bars how his "life's dream" national contract is handled by Fitzsimmons.

Hoffa, 54, who hammered out the first national trucking agreement three years ago, went to the Federal Penitentiary in Lewisburg, Pa., Tuesday to begin his eight-year jury tampering sentence.

Fitzsimmons, 58, who long worked in Hoffa's shadow, is largely an unknown quantity in major contract talks and will be watched closely by industry negotiators and other Teamsters leaders.

Hoffa, who opened the talks in January, generally dominated negotiations.

The union is demanding 75 cents an hour in wage hikes over three years plus numerous improved fringe benefits and working conditions worth an estimated total of 5 to 7 per cent annually. Truckers now earn $3.32 to $5 an hour in wages.

The negotiations, with a March 31 strike deadline, have sputtered along, largely because of uncertainty over Hoffa's fate and a dispute over whether there should be a master nationwide contract or a number of separate ones.

"You're not going to break up my life's dream of a national bargaining contract," Hoffa shouted at industry negotiators several weeks ago.

The dispute then was whether Trucking Employers Inc. would bargain with the union at the same time as smaller independent trucking associations. Later, Trucking Employers flatly refused to bargain until after Hoffa's prison deadline.

"They're stalling," a Teamsters spokesman said.

Industry negotiators still haven't sized up the outlook for bargaining with Hoffa's replacement.

"We'll have to see how the meeting goes," a Trucking Employers spokesman said before the first session with Fitzsimmons.

Mrs. Broach Heads Local Seal Drive

Mrs. R. L. Broach of Hope has been named County Chairman of the Hempstead County Chapter of the Arkansas Association for the Crippled, Inc. Mrs. Broach succeeds Haskell Jones of Hope, who had served as County Chairman for the past year. Mrs. Broach was appointed by William Moore Clark of Little Rock, President of the Association.

In announcing Mrs. Broach's appointment, Clark commended the past Chairman and the workers in the 1966 Easter Seal Campaign and urged all Hempstead county residents to support their new County Chairman this year.

The 1967 Campaign has just begun with the mailing of Easter Seals. The county's goal for this year is $1,500. Mrs. Broach is working to reach or exceed this goal.

Campaign Treasurer Mrs. June Reynolds reports that mail receipts so far in Campaign now total nearly $250. First returns were postmarked February 28th.

County Chairman Mrs. Broach urges everyone who received Easter Seals this year to support this appeal generously. Both she and Mrs. Reynolds will be happy to accept contributions in person or addressed to either of them in care of the Citizen's National Bank of Hope. Some residents who would like to support the work of the Arkansas Association for the Crippled, Inc. at the county level and at the state level through the Easter Seal Rehabilitation Center, but were missed on the direct mail solicitation, will probably want to make direct donations in person or by mail.

Legislature Overrides WR's Veto

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas legislature overrode a veto by Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller Tuesday in what was believed to be the first such action since 1953 when Francis Cherry was governor.

The bill requiring Senate approval of all gubernatorial appointments to state boards and commissions passed the Senate 23-7 and the House 59-24.

Rep. Grady Arrington of Stephens, apparently referring to the furor over Rockefeller's veto of a gambling bill, said the legislature was "in a frame of mind that we would like to override anything the governor said or did. I sincerely believe this House should calm itself."

Republican Rep. George No-wotny of Fort Smith declared that the Senate had become a battlefield between the governor and its members and that he did not think the House should enter it.

"This bill happens to be of no earthshaking importance except whether the governor is important in Arkansas or whether

Gambling Still Issue in House

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Hot Springs gambling bill was still an issue on the floor of the Arkansas House Tuesday.

Rep. John Bethell of Des Arc said Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller's veto of the bill made those who voted for the measure "look like fools."

Rep. Charles Davis of Springdale criticized remarks made Monday in the Capitol rotunda by Dr. Ralph Phelps, president of Ouachita Baptist University, during a meeting protesting the bill. Phelps later apologized.

Bethell said he had viewed the gambling bill as a solution to a long existing problem and that the legislature thought Rockefeller wanted the measure as a method of controlling, regulating or abolishing gambling.

"The governor apparently is in a crossfire now and realizes the position he would be in with his responsibility and now tells the people he will veto it," Bethell said.

He also said it appeared much of the opposition to the bill came from gambling interests in Las Vegas, where he said he understood casinos were almost operating in the red.

"It would seem that a great part of the interest on this bill was stemming from the Las Vegas gambling interests and I am sure that this interest would spend any amount of money in Arkansas to influence opposition to this legislation," Bethell said. He wondered why there was no public outcry over "horse race gambling" at Hot Springs.

"It is strange that morals differ so widely with the same people," said Bethell, who voted for the measure Friday.

Davis took exception to Phelps' remark that while opponents of the bill could not promise $1,000 a vote they could promise "a fury" when legislators who voted for the measure sought re-election.

"I would say . . . that Dr. Phelps or any other man, woman or child had best be smiling if they ever suggest to me that I took $1,000 or anything of value for any vote," Davis said.

Phelps sent a telegram to the House saying he apologized if he impugned the character of any "innocent legislator."

Tuesday night, Sen. C. Byrum Hurst of Hot Springs repeated his charge that Rockefeller had committed himself to allow the bill to become law. He said this consistently during questioning by a panel of newsmen.

The last commitment was made shortly before the bill passed the House, Hurst said.

"I say it's a sad day in the

Survival May Become Man's Big Concern in Overpopulated World

By RALPH DIGHTON
AP Science Writer

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Mere survival may become man's chief concern in an overpopulated, underfed world, says a prominent scientist.

Dr. George Harrar, president of the Rockefeller Foundation of New York, Tuesday night told a California Institute of Technology conference on "The Next 90 Years":

"The more developed nations cannot for any considerable period of time or in any significant dimension feed portions of the world which remain static in terms of their own food production efforts."

"Unless this is clearly understood and maximum efforts are made to reverse systems of underproduction wherever they exist, survival will indeed become man's chief concern."

Earlier in the conference three Caltech professors, who wrote a best-selling book "The Next 100 Years" 10 years ago, revised their forecasts gloomily on the basis of events since then.

They reported the earth's population is growing more rapidly than expected and that the world is likely to run into a food crisis within 10 years instead of 100.

Caltech biologist James Bonner cited a widening gap between rich and poor nations and predicted: "We will, I suspect, begin to regard the starving populace of the undeveloped nations as a race or species apart, people totally different from us, as indeed they will be."

"They are just animals," he will say, "and a serious reservoir of disease." The inevitable culmination of the two cultures will be that one culture (the rich) will devour the other."

They gave him little chance of winning, and some charged he was being used.

Meredith, in agreeing to oppose Powell Tuesday after being recommended by Republican leaders, said he was aware that in running he might lay himself open to "the fear and the scorn from fellow Negroes." He said that Powell, excluded from the House last week, had lost his influence and the people deserve more than what they're getting.

Meredith's name was suggested by an unidentified Harlem Republican leader last week.

Deadly Cong Raids Leave 32 Missing

By GEORGE MCARTHUR

SAIGON (AP) — Communist guerrillas made two attacks on U.S. forces in the Mekong Delta before dawn today, killing six Americans and wounding 25. One other American was missing, and two South Vietnamese platoons suffered heavy casualties.

A 15-minute mortar barrage of 80 rounds hit the first major American base established in the delta about 2 a.m. catching most of the soldiers asleep. The barrage killed two and wounded 23 at the 9th Infantry Division's Dong Tam camp some 40 miles south of Saigon.

It was the first shelling of the camp since 9th Division infantrymen moved into it in late January. The camp is about one mile square, on ground dredged from the Mekong River, and is surrounded by paddy land largely controlled by the Viet Cong at night.

Another 9th Division post was hit by mortars and small-arms fire two hours later at Rach Kien, about a dozen miles from Saigon. The U.S. soldiers and two platoons of about 60 South Vietnamese soldiers were on outpost duty and were badly bloodied in the two-hour battle.

A U.S. spokesman said the Americans had four dead, two wounded and one missing. A Vietnamese spokesman said the two South Vietnamese platoons suffered "heavy casualties."

The Viet Cong faded into the darkness when reinforcements came up, and their losses were not known. But their force was raked by artillery fire and gunship helicopters.

U. S. naval forces operating off the North Vietnamese coast had one of their busiest days Tuesday since they started shelling coastal targets in the north on Feb. 26.

The U. S. Command said the cruiser Canberra and the desegregated Keppeler and Ingersoll bombed 17 targets some 40 miles south of the port of Vinh. The warships were credited with destroying a coastal battery and a river port facility and with setting off a large secondary explosion indicating hits on munitions or fuel.

The targets included river port facilities, supply dumps, petroleum storage areas and transshipment points. The headquarters said a shore battery on Hon En Island, 41 miles south of Vinh, fired on the U. S. ships. It said the firing did no damage to the ships which silenced the battery and damaged a nearby radar station.

A 31-foot U. S. river patrol boat was cut in two by the 12,576-ton British tanker Denby Grange at 1 a.m. today on a Mekong Delta waterway. The four American sailors swam to safety. The bow of the boat stayed afloat but the after section with the engine sank.
